PRESS RELEASE

8th August 2006

VaLUENTiS has launched its new HR Executive 'Onboarding' service to provide executive advisory and coaching to newly appointed HR Directors/Chief Human Capital Officers.

This is in response to client requests and is designed as a structured approach to embedding new senior HR professionals whose remit includes both strategic and operational facets. The dedicated support provides a unique set of services including the 100-day plan, coaching/mentoring and LeanHR-LITE®, an enhancing programme that provides both assessment and implementation directives, designed for a step-change in performance.

This support is further enriched with appropriate courses provided by the International School of Human Capital Management.

This service comes on the back of VaLUENTiS' recent LeanHR® solution which is the first major business application for organisations serious about human capital management, combining a number of cross-discipline methodologies and best practice built upon a portfolio of client projects and proven management techniques.

To find out more on LeanHR® or other VaLUENTiS corporate solutions visit: www.valuentis.com, or alternatively call our team on +44 (0)20 7887 6108.

VaLUENTiS is a leading global professional services firm providing clients with human capital management, human capital measurement, organisational effectiveness and organisational measurement solutions to enhance performance. Clients include FTSE100, Euro300, and S&P500 companies, as well as a variety of public sector organisations.
